

Jethro, Max, Cody, and Jackson Miller don't know that their mother's name is Elizabeth but people call her Doll. They don't know that she's a board member and regular volunteer at the Savannah-Chatham Humane Society. To them, she is not an experienced ophthalmologist who has performed thousands of successful LASIK surgeries.

Nope, she's just their person. The one who scratches them behind the ears and gives them baths. The one who feeds them, snuggles with them on the sofa, and takes them for walks. The one who loves them. She is Mom.

*Love is a four-legged word.
Anyone can see that.*
